

Senior PHP Developer

Deploy is a technology agency that partners with creative and tech company clients, as well as start-ups from a variety of industries to deliver mission critical technology solutions.

Join us!

We are currently looking for a Senior PHP Developer to work with us in building rich interactive experiences, essential to making sure the creative vision for an experience works seamlessly.

Responsibilities:

- Responsible for producing clean, high quality and standards compliant code
- Accurately estimate hours and project time needs, actively participate in requirements definition
- Proactively identify potential project issues and risks
- Proactively identify mitigation strategies where needed and follow through to minimize risks and negative impact
- Work as a part of team
- Produce, update and/or maintain accurate project documentation
- Stay on top of industry trends and standards in enterprise web applications

Qualifications:

- 3+ years experience in a hands-on role in PHP development
- Advanced programming skills and a very strong understanding of OOP concepts
- Experience with common PHP frameworks such as Laravel, Zend, CodeIgniter, Symfony
- Strong experience working with relational databases as well as hands on experience with SQL and database schema design
- Ability to understand project specifications and adapt to various technologies and frameworks
- Excellent English written and verbal communication skills

Yours benefits:

- Competitive salary
- Family atmosphere
- Good work/life balance
- Engaging projects
- Supportative management
- Downtown office location
- Work from home options

Deploy is an equal opportunity employer (EEO).

