

JAVA DEVELOPER

As a Java Developer, you will take part in design, development, and testing of a server-side web services for the EON platform. The robust and highly scalable solution makes use of the latest technological advancements, specifically pertaining to video delivery.

Freedom and responsibilities:

- Implementing the server-side application according to the provided specification
- Communicating and coordinating with the front-end team
- Communicating with the back-end teams
- Documenting your designs and solutions
- Proposing, planning and implementing further improvements to the solution

What we look for:

- At least 3 years in Java server-side development
- Previous experience with Spring Boot
- Experience with relational databases (PostgreSQL)
- Experience with source control (Git)
- Good verbal communication and good interpersonal skills
- Advanced problem-solving skills
- High proficiency in written and spoken English

What will be considered as a bonus:

- Experience with video streaming
- Experience with in memory data grids (e.g. Apache Ignite)
- Experience with MQTT (e.g. Kafka)

What you'll have here:

- Challenging projects and environment with an extremely Agile mindset
- Continuous career growth
- Direct communication with key stakeholders
- Casual but highly professional and dynamic environment
- Modern and cozy offices in Navigator Business Center - Belgrade, Serbia
- Sports, team buildings, conferences, and events
- Work life balance

We are focused on solving challenging creative problems, and making brands with attitude that stand for something valuable. We are looking for smart, ambitious, passionate individuals to join our growing team. If you have what it takes to make a change for the better send us your CV and we will get back to you soon.

Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.